

A Lecture Series Presented at

The Dole Institute for Politics

All Lectures are at 7:30 PM

Date	Speaker	Institute	Title
Tuesday April 4 th	Lawrence M. Krauss	Physics Department Case Western Reserve University	Science Under Attack, from the White House to the Classroom: Public Policy, Science Education, and the Emperor's New Clothes  Abstract  A Quicktime version of Slides of the Lecture
Wednesday April 19 th	Barbara Forrest	Department of History &amp; Political Science Southeastern Louisiana University	The Naturalism of Science: The Only Way that Works  Abstract
Wednesday May 3 rd	William Schopf	Department of Earth and Space Sciences University of California, Los Angeles	The Earliest History of Life: Solution to Darwin's Dilemma  Abstract
Tuesday May 9 th	Joseph A. Heppert	Department of Chemistry University of Kansas	Understanding 'alternatives' to Evolution  Abstract

The series is sponsored by the following KU departments:

Physics & Astronomy
Ecology & Evolutionary Biology
Philosophy
Anthropology
College of Liberal Arts & Sciences

Chemistry
Molecular Biosciences
Political Science
Psychology
Office of the Provost

Geology
Kansas Geological Survey
Religious Studies
Economics